REVOLT IN CHINA. Two Mandarins Killed and Govern

ment Troops Defeated. A Shanghal dispatch confirms the report that rebellion has broken out a hundred miles from Hankow, China.

The rebels are fairly armed and reckless. They attacked some government buildings, which were feebly defended by loyal troops. The latter were soon defeated, and many of them were killed. Many others joined the rebels. Two mandarins were killed. The province is almost denuded of troops and the rebels are gathering strength daily.

It is expected that they will march on Hankow and Woochang, province of Hoopee. The garrison at Woochang has gone to the coast, and the place is practically defenseless.

Hankow, Hanyang and Woochang, on the Yang-tse-Klang, 700 miles from the sea, are all in sight of one another, only separated by the river. Together they form one of the greatest commercial centers in the world, and at one time had an estimated population of 8,000,000.

Hankow is the treaty port and is said to ship the first tea of the season. Its present population is given as 800,000. The total value of the foreign trade in 1890 was reported at about $40,000,000. ported at about $40,000,000.

There are United States, British, French and other consulates at Hankow, a bank, and other consulates at Hankow, a bank, insurance agencies, American and European missionaries, a Catholic orphan asylum and a hospital for the Chinese.

The foreign residents quarter is well laid out and has a fine frontage on the river. Steamboats run up to the landing barge and great ships anchor in the broad stream. Death of Mrs. Lucy Redman After an illness of two weeks, suffering with congestion of the lungs, Mrs. Lucy V. Redman, wife of Mr. Jacob S. Redman, died yesterday afternoon at her residence, 325 Virginia avenue southwest. Mrs. Redman, by reason of her unselfish character and cheerful disposition, was held in high esteem by a very large circle of friends, to whom her demise is a painful loss. Her husband, a son and two small daughters survive her. The funeral will take place from the above number on Thursday at 2 p. m. Interment is to be made in Rock Creek cemetery.

DOUBTFUL DISTRICTS

Where Republican Congressmen May Be Elected in Virginia.

DEMOCRATS COUNTING ON NEGRO VOTES

The Unexpected Vigor of the Republican Campaign.

POPULISM ON THE WANE

RICHMOND, Va., October 16, 1894 The developments in the congressional campaign during the past week go to show that the populist craze in Virginia is on the wane. In nearly all of the districts the democrats say they have only the republican nominees to fear. It seems that the fight being made on national issues the populists have little ground on which to stand. In the beginning of the campaign very little attention was paid to the republican nominees, it being the belief that they would play second fiddle in the contest, as usual, but it seems that those who have been nominated have gone in the fight to win, and are developing unexpected strength. Especially is this illustrated in the ninth and tenth districts. In the former, Gen, Walker, the republican nominee, is a most formidable opponent to the democratic nominee, Judge Morison. Gen. Walker commanded during the late war the old Stonewall brigade after Gen. Jackson's promotion; he was a gallant soldier, and he is being liberally supported by ex-confederates. The fact, however, that Gen. Walker immediately after the close of the war wrote a letter to President Andrew Johnson expressing regret for the part he had taken in the war is being urged against him in the district. Walker's gallantry, when there was really war on hand, is, however, too well known to admit of the publication doing him much harm. He is making an earnest fight on the tariff and currency questions, and is handling the subjects with ability and courage. It is reported by disinterested politicians that Judge Morison is not vigorous enough in his speeches to cope with Gen. Walker, consequently the democrats have put on his track Mr. Wysor of Pulaski county, who is following the Gen. wherever he goes, and is attacking him and his record in a vigorous manner. Consequently the ninth district has never before seen a congressional canyass so full of doing him much harm. He is making an seen a congressional canvass so full of energy.

Judge Morison, the democratic nominee, is a very magnetic man, and as carnest as at-tractive. He has united all the factions of democracy estranged by local questions or disappointments in the distribution of fed-eral patronage by Representative Marshall. Morison's friends concede to Walker the counties of Wythe, Pulaski, Bland and Tazewell, but reserve the rest of the district to the judge, and figure out a democratic majority of about 1,000. The friends of Walker, on the other hand, claim the counties of Wythe, Bland, Pulaski, Tazewell and the small counties at the extreme west end of the district, and Lee, and, after reducing the democratic estimates in Washington, Smythe and Scott, estimate a safe ton, Smythe and Scott, estimate a safe majority for the republican ticket. Gen. Walker began his campaign nearity two months before Judge Morison entered the fight. Mr. Wysor's attacks upon Gen. Walker's record have been very severe. fight. Mr. Wysor's attacks upon Gen. Walker's record have been very severe, and his excertations of the general most bitter. The latter, however, has never lost his temper, and is meeting the onslaughts with the weapon of words only. Gen. Waiker dwells at length in his speeches upon the alleged practices of fraud by the democrats.

Close on Tucker's Heels. In the tenth district Jacob Yost of Staun-

ton has developed enough strength to justify the assertion that Representative Tucker will not have a walkover. Mr. Yost is one of the best stump speakers in Virginia, and will certainly poll a large vote. He is registered. ting Tucker in joint debate, and has always held his own against the brilliant young Congressman. Yost's friends are en-thusiastic over his success on the stump. and profess to feel confident that he will win by a small majority. Capt. Cocke, the populist nominee in this district, who was the populists' candidate for governor against O'Ferrall, it seems, is scarcely making any effort whatever to win. He rarely ever takes the stump, and even some of the voters in his own district are not aware of his canvass. It is said by his friends that he has no hope of election, and, in fact, does not care enough about it to make the fight. Another district where the poulists are idle is the fourth. Mr. W. R. McKenney of Petersburg has been nominated by the democrats to succeed Representative Epes The republican nominee is Mr. R. T. Thorp of Mecklenburg. The latter entered the contest early and has been lighting to win. This district is concelled to contain a large number of populist voters, but since the declination of Col. Goode his party has never shown any disposition to put up another candidate. It is feared by the democrats that the populists are secretly giving their support to Mr. Thorp, and that the populists have any hopes of winning in the congressional fight they have rea-sons to expect something in this district. It is said that in this district there are fully two thousand illiterate white voters and nearly twice as many colored voters, who will be called upon to cast their votes under the new Australian ballot law. It is said also that the negroes do not feel as much interest in this election as in former years. As a class they are becoming more conservative, are dividing in politics, and #### every year sees more and me voting openly the democratic ticket.

A well-known democrat from this district said to The Star correspondent today that under the new law nearly half of the negroes would vote the democratic ticket; that the only reason that they have not voted this ticket before was that they stood in great fear of their race, who would ostracise them should they desert the republican party. This, the democrats say, is one of their strongest hopes of success. one of their strongest hopes of success. They claim that fully half of the negroes of Virginia will vote the democratic ticket under the new law, now that the hypnotizing spell of Mahone over them has been broken. The fourth district comprises a large portion of the black belt in Virginia, and the negroes there play an important part in the contest. The silence of Gen. Mahone, who is still the republican state chairman, in the present contest is most significant. The general is still on record as opposed to the nomination of republican candidates for Congress in the districts of Virginia. His party, however, ignored his candidates for Congress in the districts of Virginia. His party, however, ignored his mandate for the first time since he has been its leader, and as a party placed candidates in the field in every district in the state. The general, as is well known, has said but little, and has really done nothing. His first titles are during the coning. His first utterance during the cam-paign was the interview with him which appeared in The Washington Star last week, and it was copied in all of the Richmond papers. This has had a strengthening influence among the leaders of the party here, who have not yet learned to minimize Mahone's power as a great party leader and peerless organizer. nominee in the fourth district is making a red-hot fight, and, being a good organizer and a worker, has inspired great confidence among the democratic leaders in his suc-cess. He is, however, fighting against great odds, and if he wins it will be quite a personal victory.

While latter proferring charges against his superthe democratic party is terribly divided in ior officer. Col. Noyes was recently sumnious, and it seems that every leader of the party is working for the success of Mr. Borland. In view of the fact that this is nious, and it seems that every leader of the party is working for the success of Mr. Borland. In view of the fact that this is concededly a republican district, the democrats have reason to feel uneasy about Tyler. He is a hard worker, however, and his judicious distribution of the federal patronage at the Norfolk navy yard will probably give him the city. It is believed that the whole contest hinges upon the vote in Norfolk city. It is well known that there is great disaffection in the party in the city, and the democrats fear that it will not be healed in time for the November.

The matter was investing at the War Department, and the conclusion was reached that the case called for no further action. Col. Noyes has been thoroughly vindicated, however, in his administration of military affairs at Fort Chikuahus.

The silence of Gen. Fitzhugh Lee in the The silence of Gen. Fitzhugh Lee in the present campaign, when nearly every prominent democrat in the state has taken the stump for somebody, has caused a great deal of comment in the ranks of all of the parties. His defeat by Martin for the United States Senate at the hands of the Virginia legislature does not indicate that his power over the masses has waned or that he is a back number in Virginia polithat he is a back number in Virginia pelt-tles. The reason for Gen. Lee's silence is that he has been unwell for some time. In a private letter to a friend in this city

Mr. W. L. Wilson, Senater J. N. Camden and ex-Gov A. B. Fleming addressed a mixed audience of miners and furners, numbering 2,000 voters, at Monongah, W. Va , yesterday afternoon. Delegations were present from all the surrounding country and the crowd was one of the most enthustastic Mr. Wilson has yet addressed.

Senator Camden opened the speaking, asserting that no harm would come either to West Virginia miners or mine owner through the removal of the tax or coal. Mr. Wilson followed, and upon the coal question said that free raw material would yet be the salvation of the American workingman, and that free coal would, in the end, tenefit all ergaged in the mining Yesterday's registration at Chicago eclipsed all previous records. When the polls closed it was estimated by both democratic and republican leaders that the list contained over 200,000 names. The twenty-fifth assembly district has been flooded with circulars in Hebrew calling for a meeting tonight to organize a wo-man's anti-Tammany league.
